KUMAGAE, JAP TENNIS STAR, PROVES HIMSELF A REAL SPORTSMAN

To be the winner of the national tennis singles in America would mean a great deal to Ichiya Kumagae, the Japanese tennis champion and one of the leading ten in America's honor roll of 1916, but he has meant more to the little Jap racketeer, who has refused to enter the competition at Forest Hills.

The cream of American tennis is in government service. In fact, with the exception of Kumagae, all of the first ten of 1916 are serving the government. Under those circumstances Kumagae believed it would be rather unfair for him to compete for the championship against those who are left, players who do not represent the highest form of American tennis.

Kumagae was entered in the national doubles at the Longwood Cricket Club, Boston, however, being paired with Harry Taylor.

His action in refusing to take part in the singles gave the little Jap a place in the hearts of American tennis lovers which is won only by those showing the highest sort of sportsmanship.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 23.—Empress Augusta Victoria of Germany is ill at Castle Wilhelmshohe, Hesse-Cassel, the Lokal Anzeiger from her war relief work. Physicians in attendance promise her full recovery within a few weeks.

Patience is the most essential ingredient of genius.

Let's save this 15%.

THE Government is asking the help of employers and workmen to do away with the unnecessary "turn-over" of labor in essential war industries. If this can be done it will add 15% to the productivity of industry.

The U. S. Employment Service has been organized as a part of the Department of Labor to help employers find the right men, and to help men find the right jobs in all war work. This Service has 500 branch offices covering the United States, and 20,000 U. S. Public Reserve Enrollment Agents.

It has definite knowledge of manufacturing and labor conditions all over the country. Employers are asked to use this service when they need men, and workers are asked to consult it when they need employment, or if they feel a change in employment is necessary.

Thus workers are assured of being sent to the right jobs at the right time. Employers get help in hiring men as they need them.

PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT

"Industry plays as essential and honorable a role in this great struggle as do our military armaments. We all recognize the truth of this, but we must also see its necessary implications—namely, that industry, doing a vital task for the nation, must receive the support and assistance of the nation."

"Therefore, I solemnly urge all employers engaged in war work to refrain after August 1st, 1918, from recruiting unskilled labor in any manner except through this central agency. [U. S. Employment Service.] I urge labor to respond as loyally as heretofore to any calls issued by this agency for voluntary enlistment in essential industry. And I ask them both alike to remember that no sacrifice will have been in vain, if we are able to prove beyond all question that the highest and best form of efficiency is the spontaneous co-operation of a free people."

facilities were provided, and there was no loss of time or money to workers or employer.

The use of the U. S. Employment Service by both employers and workers is a patriotic service and duty to the government.
